

MEANS TO ACCOMPLISH GOALS

5603

(May 1988)

The program depends heavily on data collected in the RPA and NFMA processes in California. The department augments that information and critiques the federal assessments from the state perspective. The program staff does the following:

- Identifies data needs and means for fulfilling them.
- Writes and oversees contracts.
- Develops resource, analysis, and economic models.
- Consults with others collecting and using forest and range data.
- Analyzes renewable resource issues.
- Produces written assessment products.
